2. Вектор -  $\vec{v}$ ,  $\vec{w}$  &
 $\vec{v} \cdot \vec{w} = |\vec{v}| |\vec{w}| \cos \alpha$ где  $\alpha$  - угол между векторами.
Свойства:  $\vec{v} \cdot \vec{v} = |\vec{v}|^2$ ,  $\vec{v} \cdot \vec{0} = 0$ $\vec{0} \cdot \vec{v} = 0$ .

1. Вектор  $\vec{a}$  и  $\vec{b}$  называются ортогональными, если  $\vec{a} \cdot \vec{b} = 0$ .
Свойства:  $\vec{a} \cdot \vec{b} = 0 \Leftrightarrow \vec{a} \perp \vec{b}$ .
Если  $\vec{a} \perp \vec{b}$ , то  $|\vec{a} + \vec{b}|^2 = |\vec{a}|^2 + |\vec{b}|^2$ .
Если  $\vec{a} \parallel \vec{b}$ , то  $|\vec{a} + \vec{b}| = |\vec{a}| + |\vec{b}|$  или
 $|\vec{a} - \vec{b}| = ||\vec{a}| - |\vec{b}||$ .

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a personal letter or diary entry. The text is written in a fluid, connected style with some corrections and insertions. The content is mostly illegible due to the cursive nature of the handwriting, but some words and phrases are recognizable, such as "Muzhik" (Russian for peasant) and "Suslo- wa" (possibly a name or place). The text appears to be a mix of Russian and possibly Polish or another Slavic language.

Handwritten text in cursive script, likely a list or notes. The text is written in a fluid, connected style. It includes several lines of text, some of which are enclosed in brackets. The text is written in black ink on a light-colored background. The lines are roughly horizontal, with some variations in line length and spacing. The overall appearance is that of a personal or working document.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document. The text is written in a fluid, connected style. The first line begins with a large initial 'K'. The text is arranged in approximately 11 lines, filling most of the page. The handwriting is consistent throughout, with some variations in line height and slant. The overall appearance is that of a personal or official communication from the late 18th or early 19th century.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document. The text is written on a page numbered 194 at the bottom. The handwriting is dense and fills most of the page. The text appears to be a personal communication, possibly a letter, discussing various matters, including dates like 1878 and 1879, and names like "K. S. K." and "K. S. K.". The text is written in a fluid, cursive style characteristic of the late 19th century.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a personal letter or diary entry. The text is written in a fluid, connected style. The content is difficult to decipher due to the cursive and some illegible characters, but it appears to be a continuous flow of text. The text is written in a dark ink on a light background.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function  $f(x)$  defined by the series

$$f(x) = \sum_{n=0}^{\infty} a_n x^n$$
 where  $a_n$  are the coefficients of the series. It is shown that the function  $f(x)$  is analytic in the region  $|x| < R$  where  $R$  is the radius of convergence of the series.

2. In the second part of the paper the properties of the function  $f(x)$  are studied in more detail. It is shown that the function  $f(x)$  is continuous in the region  $|x| < R$  and that it has a unique continuation into the region  $|x| < R$ .

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function  $f(x)$  in the region  $|x| > R$ . It is shown that the function  $f(x)$  is analytic in the region  $|x| > R$  and that it has a unique continuation into the region  $|x| > R$ .

4. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function  $f(x)$  in the region  $|x| = R$ . It is shown that the function  $f(x)$  is analytic in the region  $|x| = R$  and that it has a unique continuation into the region  $|x| = R$ .

5. The fifth part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function  $f(x)$  in the region  $|x| < R$  and  $|x| > R$ . It is shown that the function  $f(x)$  is analytic in the region  $|x| < R$  and  $|x| > R$  and that it has a unique continuation into the region  $|x| < R$  and  $|x| > R$ .

Wegen  $n \in \mathbb{Z}^2 \setminus \{0\}$ , ist  $z = \frac{n}{|n|}$ ein Einheitsvektor (Twer)  $\mu \in \mathbb{R}$ .
In  $\mathbb{R}^2$  ist  $\langle \cdot, \cdot \rangle$  das Skalarprodukt und  $|\cdot|$  die Norm. Dann gilt
 $\langle z, z \rangle = |z|^2 = 1$ .
Für  $\mu \in \mathbb{R}$  ist  $\mu z$  ein Vektor
in  $\mathbb{R}^2$  mit  $|\mu z| = |\mu|$ .
Die Abbildung  $\mu \mapsto \mu z$  ist eine Isometrie von  $\mathbb{R}$  nach in  $\mathbb{R}^2$ .

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a form of shorthand or a specific dialect. The text is arranged in approximately 12 lines, starting with a large initial flourish. The characters are highly stylized and interconnected, making them difficult to decipher without a key or context. The lines are roughly as follows:

Line 1: Large initial flourish followed by several connected strokes.

Line 2: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 3: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 4: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 5: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 6: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 7: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 8: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 9: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 10: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 11: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Line 12: A series of connected, somewhat vertical strokes.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a letter or a journal entry. The text is written in a fluid, connected style and appears to be in a non-Latin alphabet, likely Cyrillic. The content is illegible due to the cursive nature of the handwriting.

Let us now see what the curve,  $y = \cos x$ , looks like
in the interval  $[-\pi, \pi]$ .
The curve is symmetric about the y-axis.

By the way, in 1880 the English mathematician, P. G. L.
Lighthill, found a new way to write the cosine function.

Let us see how it looks
in the interval  $[-\pi, \pi]$ .
The curve is symmetric about the y-axis. The curve is the same as the cosine function.

my very dear friends,
I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your kind letter of the 10th inst. and in reply to inform you that the same has been forwarded to the proper authorities for their consideration. I am, however, unable to say when a decision will be reached. I am, dear friends, very respectfully, Yours truly,

Handwritten musical notation on a page, consisting of ten staves of music. The notation is written in a cursive, handwritten style. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The notation includes various rhythmic values, accidentals, and slurs. The word "[Sofjas]" is written in square brackets on the third staff. The handwriting is fluid and expressive, typical of a composer's sketch or a personal manuscript.

Handwritten text in German, likely a list or a set of instructions, written in a cursive script. The text is mostly illegible due to the handwriting style and some fading. It appears to be a list of items or steps, possibly related to a technical or administrative process. The text is arranged in approximately 10 lines, with some lines starting with a number (1, 2) and others starting with a letter (A, B). The handwriting is dense and somewhat slanted, characteristic of the late 18th or early 19th century.

in 1800, I signed the constitution of the state of New York.

It is a great honor to sign the constitution of the state of New York.
I am proud to be a part
of this great document.
The constitution is the foundation of our country. It is the law of the land.
It is the source of our rights and liberties.
It is the cornerstone of our democracy.
I am proud to be a part

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a list or index of names and dates. The text is written in black ink on a white background. The characters are highly stylized and difficult to decipher, but some words and numbers are recognizable. The text appears to be a list of names and dates, possibly related to a historical or genealogical record. The names are written in a cursive script, and the dates are written in a simpler, more legible script. The text is arranged in several lines, with some lines starting with a small mark or symbol. The overall appearance is that of a handwritten document, possibly a list of names and dates.

Handwritten text, likely a list or notes, written in cursive. The text is mostly illegible due to the cursive style and fading. Some recognizable words or fragments include "Spencer" and "C. M.". The text appears to be organized into several lines, possibly representing a list of items or a set of instructions.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a letter or a document. The text is written in a fluid, connected style. The first line begins with a wavy line, followed by a comma and a checkmark. The text continues with various characters and symbols, including what appears to be a date or time reference "2. 12. 1914". The handwriting is dense and fills most of the page.

Dear Mother
I am well and hope you are the same.

I have been thinking of you
very much lately
and wondering how you are getting on.
I hope you are all well
and happy.
I am your affectionate son,
John

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or a personal note. The text is written in a fluid, connected style. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive nature of the handwriting, but some words are recognizable, such as "Knowledge" and "I". The text appears to be a mix of English and possibly another language, given the unique characters and the structure of the words. The overall tone is personal and somewhat informal.
